Getting life in proportion and setting priorities

Today is one of those days when I step back to contemplate our future. What we can realistically expect? What state of mind should we hold? How do we keep our morale up? I am copying you in on what I watched today. Not light viewing but in my view necessary. The following contains all the data I needed to reaffirm my decision as to how and why to move forward.

First off, bearing in mind the season:

What would you do if you knew you were going to die within a week? A good Easter message.

(From 2022) Scott McKay: Massive Update and the Khazarian Mafia (Video) Start at 15.00 1:44:16 A guy who will keep going until all the corrupted officials are removed from office. A great role model.

Documentary: Hybrid World 'The Plan to Modify and Control the Human Race' (Transgenetics) 55:24 Yes, us humans are lab rats. Semi robotic soldiers (super soldiers) are being developed NOW.

Pam Gregory Astrologer on the (in)famous 8th April Eclipse A trifle technical in parts but a good view. 50:48

CIA Spy: "Leave The USA Before 2030!" Why You Shouldn't Trust Your Gut! – Andrew Bustamante with Steve Bartlett 2:02:19
Really good clues about how to sell yourself or your product.

The future role of doctors – who do we believe? Mary Holland and Dr. Drew. summary/video CHD TV 1:07:38

These will keep you going for the full day!

Happy Easter, Happy year, Happy life!

Brian (Ed.)
